

Ready to-go website templates provided on this website are not exclusive and may be used by other individuals or organizations. Purchase of a Ready to-go website template does not grant exclusive rights to the design or its elements. We reserve the right to continue selling the template to other customers after it has been purchased. By purchasing a template from our website, you are granted a non-transferable, non-exclusive license to use the template for your personal or commercial use. Any unauthorized distribution or reselling of the templates is strictly prohibited.

No Refund Policy for Non-Exclusive Ready to-go website Website Templates:

Our website templates are non-exclusive and are sold "as is." We do not offer refunds or exchanges on any Ready to-go website templates purchased from our website.

By purchasing a website template from us, you are agreeing to our no refund policy. We strongly recommend that you review the template and make sure it meets your needs and is compatible with your platform before making a purchase. Please note that the template images are not included and you need to provide your own images and logo to implement on the template.

In the event of a technical issue, we will make every effort to assist you in resolving the problem. However, we do not guarantee that the Ready to-go website templates will be compatible with all platforms or that the templates will be error-free.

Compatible website platforms will be listed bellow:

WordPress, Elementor.

Turnaround Time:

Estimated delivery and completion of work from our end is from 2-15 days after the customer has provided all requirements.

Revisions:

With every project, we provide our clients with up to two (2) revisions, ensuring that the final product meets their expectations and vision. Our team has a passion for creating websites that are both aesthetically pleasing and functional, delivering a superior user experience for our clients' customers. Contact us today to learn more about how we can help bring your vision to life.

Additional revisions will result in an extra fee of $100 per revision.

Images:

Please note that images are not included Images of decoration or artist are not included and are for demonstration purposes.

You must provide images that you own or have the right to use.

Photos or decorations on our Ready To-Go website templates are owned by their respective owners/artists. Dmunoz Media has permission from the respective owners to use images for demonstration only and not to distribute or sell them as part of the product to customers.

Payment:

Dmunoz Media will provide or send you a credit card authorization form after you process your payment on our website.

Policy Changes:

This policy is subject to change at any time without any notice.

Website Hosting:

With the purchase of a ready To-Go website template Dmunoz Media will provide you with a 3 month free of charge "Website Hosting" after the period you will be change a monthly hosting fee of $10 USD unless you have and transfer your website

To your own hosting account.

Failure to make hosting service fee:

You are more than welcome to keep using our hosting service for as long as you want, however if you or your company fail to make the monthly hosting service fee this may result in your website to be down and or deletion if further action is not taken.

Website maintenance:

Dmunoz Media can provide website maintenance for those that want and choose the maintenance service for $29/month. This is an optional service.

If you have any questions please contact us at:

Info@dmunozmedia.com

(646) 296-7468